

Justin Matuszewski

My name is Justin Matuszewski and I am a student at DePaul University pursuing a degree in accounting and finance. Following graduation, I plan to obtain my CPA and work in public accounting. At DePaul, I have had the opportunity to lead retreats, and help plan our student Mass on campus. I find both these opportunities extremely rewarding as they help me share the gift that Jesus offers each one of us, a personal relationship with Him. In my free time I enjoy running marathons, playing tennis, reading, and listening to podcasts.
